Student Strikes Set Around The Country

(CPS)--After a two-year lull America's college campuses became active with strikes, demonstrations and teach-ins prompted by the escalation of the U.S. role in the Indochina war.

The strike, backed by the National Student Association (NSA), the National Student Lobby (NSL), and the Student Mobilization Committee (SMC), grew out of an emergency NSA/NSL conference. Forty student leaders met in Washington to discuss the air war and to lobby for passage of the Mondale-Gravel-Drynan bill to cut off funds for the war. The eight Ivy League student newspapers agreed that same weekend to print a joint editorial criticizing the war's escalation and calling for a student strike. The NSA conference responded with a call to all students to strike on Friday, April 21.

Several demands were issued late Monday, April 17, including: an immediate halt to the bombing of North and South Vietnam; the withdrawal of all American air, naval, and ground forces from Vietnam; the final renunciation of the Thieu regime by the U.S. government; and a return to the peace talks by the U.S. government. NSA also issued an appeal to antiwar forces to bring massive pressure to bear on Congress in support of the Mondale-Gravel-Drynan "cut off the war funds" amendment.

Response to the call was immediate. On Monday evening several thousand Columbia University students staged a march down Broadway in New York City, three hundred students smashed windows at Stanford University in California, and Amherst College in Amherst, Mass., went on strike immediately.

In San Francisco 2,000 people stood in support of the takeover of an Air Force Recruitment Station by members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War. 70 persons were arrested and a Bavak Recruiting station wagon was burned.

At Alameda Air Naval Station 41 persons were arrested after a crowd of four hundred shut the base down for three hours.

At Madison, Wisconsin, three thousand students marched to the ROTC building on the University of Wisconsin campus bearing red paint. Two were arrested as the building and police were spattered with paint. Demonstrators there seized and held for ten minutes the State Street mall, a main city street leading from the campus to the State Capitol building.

Colgate University and Grinnell College, in Iowa, declared immediate hunger strikes on their campuses. Boston University has been on strike for the past two weeks on account of an incident arising from the presence of Marine recruiters on the campus.

Students at the University of Maryland College Park campus staged protests at a table tennis match between the visiting Chinese and American teams--a match attended by Tricia Nixon Cox and Secretary of State William Rogers. After the match about 350 students marched on the ROTC building, breaking windows, and then paraded to the University President's home.

Activities on Tuesday, April 18, were heightened. Columbia students again marched down Broadway in New York, and the Columbia administration hurriedly removed the U.S. flag from the flagpole in front of the administration building as students stood demanding the closing of that school.

University of Maryland-College Park students again attacked the ROTC building and, 1,000 strong, blocked U.S. Highway 1 into Washington, D.C. Police used tear gas to clear the area, injuring one student and arresting several others.

A nationwide chain phone-call campaign was also initiated, with people calling the White House to register their feelings and then asking a friend to do likewise. (The White House number is (202) 456-1414)

By Tuesday evening between 40 and 50 schools had confirmed their intentions to strike, with numerous others planning to hold strike votes on Thursday, April 20.

The ROTC building at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Mass., was reported to have been rocked by a bomb blast Tuesday night while students from the University of the Americas rioted outside the Naval Security Station in Washington, D.C.

To coordinate information flow, the NSA has set up a strike central in its offices in Washington, D.C. Three regional strike information centers have also been established: the Colorado Daily at the University of Colorado in Boulder; Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla.; and the University of Illinois at Champaign. Additionally, College Press Service in Denver, Colorado, is working with NSA to coordinate news for the duration of the protests.

Rhode Island Student Governments Meet At Bryant

On March 12, 1972, the presidents of the student bodies of: Bryant College, University of Rhode Island, Brown University, Rhode Island School of Design, Barrington College, Providence College, Johnson & Wales, Rhode Island College, Rhode Island Junior College, and Roger Williams College met to form the Rhode Island Council of Student Governments.

The purpose of the council:

1. Establish constant communication among all the colleges (and therefore all the students) and universities in the state of Rhode Island.

2. To collectively represent the wishes and desires of students in the state to federal, state, and local officials.

3. To establish a central scheduling office to provide every school and the press with a running calendar of events and so that all the schools can work together to set up lectures, concerts, discussions, and political debates, and thereby bringing all the resources of all the schools together for the benefit of the students and the community.

The council will meet every six weeks on a revolving plan; each college taking turn as host of the meeting.

The responsibility for the agenda will be assumed by the president of the Student Government that is playing host to the meeting.

It is the intention of the Rhode Island Council of Student Governments to be a viable political and social force in the state of Rhode Island and to concern itself with representing the views of the state's college students and to act in their behalf.

The next meeting will be held on May 10, 1972 at Barrington College. 2

Congress Calls For Student Presence On College Governing Boards

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CPS)--A resolution calling for student membership on college and university governing boards has passed the Senate as an amendment to the multi-billion dollar higher education bill.

The amendment, instigated by the National Student Lobby and sponsored by Sen. Fred Harris (D-Okla.), passed by a 66-28 vote Feb. 29. It took the form of a "sense of the Congress" resolution.

The amendment proposes that every board have at least one student with full membership rights chosen by the student body, and calls for a status report in one year by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The National Student Lobby was set up last summer by four students from the University of California. The lobbying effort for the amendment included a mass mailing to the nation's 2,500 student governments.

Moratorium Called By B.C. Student Senate

At an emergency meeting of the Bryant College Student Senate, a motion made by Kenneth Katz was passed and read as follows. "Moratorium be offered to the students of Bryant tomorrow; there will also be a referendum to decide whether or not the students desire to strike." As of this hour, the Student Senate office is a hotbed of activity. Speakers are scheduled and movies will be shown. It is imperative that concerned members of the student body vote, in order that a concrete decision be made and a solid stand be taken.

Editorially Speaking

President McGovern

Those who questioned George McGovern's early start for the 1972 presidential bid are now taking a second look. Was an almost twelve month jump on the other Democratic possibilities really needed? It doesn't look like it hindered him one bit.

An impressive win in the Wisconsin Primary, and a predicted win in the Massachusetts Primary has made George McGovern the Democratic frontrunner in our judgement. Out of more than 17 states with full or partial results in, Senator McGovern leads with 260 delegates. Senator Muskie has 121, Governor Wallace 90, Senator Humphrey 78, and Senator Jackson 42. Mayor Lindsay dropped out of the race completely after McGovern's victory in Wisconsin.

In addition to a rapidly increasing delegate count, Senator McGovern is gaining in endorsements and statements of support. Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin simply announced that he had voted for McGovern in the primary. Julian Bond issued a statement supporting George McGovern. John Kerry, leader of Vietnam Veterans Against the War, himself a Congressional candidate in Massachusetts, has endorsed McGovern. Wednesday, (19th) Congressman Paul McCloskey urged Massachusetts voters to support Senator McGovern in an effort to repudiate the President's current Vietnam policy.

With the increased bombing over North Vietnam, and the failure of the other presidential hopefuls to take a stand on this unpopular escalation, we suggest that George McGovern is qualified. He didn't wait until the morning of moratorium day to come out against the war. Senator McGovern is the only candidate who has been on record as being against the war right along. We strongly recommend that he is given a good look now, as well as on election day.

The Man With The Experience

Since it is the duty of the ARCHWAY to express its opinion on subjects which are vital to the interests of the student body and the entire BRYANT community, we would like to take this opportunity to make a few comments about the Vice Presidential Search Committee and especially to make a recommendation to this Committee.

The Committee is comprised of one administrator, two faculty members and two students. It is possible that the administrator and the faculty members represent their respective constituencies. We do ask, however, how a 32 year-old black, male commuter, and a white co-ed who has allegedly gone through several roommates and is rather noted for her lack of popularity among students were chosen to represent the students of Bryant College. It is our understanding that many factors were considered in determining the committee persons; for example black-white, male-female, and dormitory resident-commuter.

We do not wish to take issue with the Search Committee since it is already operating and for all purposes it is a matter of fait accompli. We do take issue, however, with the comments made by one of the student members of the Committee. This student member, when asked by an ARCHWAY staff member to comment on how the Committee's national publicity was going, replied that there were over 300 applicants. When asked about a particular candidate, Dr. Georgios Piperopoulos (Mr. "P"), the committee member replied: "he has no experience."

This is where we of the ARCHWAY wish to take our stand!

Mr. "P" has been at Bryant for the last three years. Before that he taught at the University of Maryland, and was for two academic years both a professor (acting chairman of sociology) and a resident dormitory counselor at Providence College. In the past he has worked as the director of planning for a 7.5 million dollar War on Poverty program heading a staff of 14 professionals. He has been a consultant to numerous agencies and institutions throughout New England and to such known drug addict rehabilitation programs as MARATHON HOUSE and SPECTRUM HOUSE. He holds a Ph.D. in Sociology and Psychology and he is under 35 (both unofficial prerequisites for the job.)

While at Bryant, he has been very close to students, living for the whole length of time as a counselor at Appleby Hall and on this campus. He began what became known as the "Appleby Experiment" - an innovational program serving as a channel of informal dialogue between students, faculty and administration and as a UNIQUE outlet for the students' views and complaints and somewhat large group therapy sessions. He became a constructive element in Bryant's participation in the nationwide campus upheavals of 1970. He has instituted the chess club at Bryant and has acted as the faculty advisor to the TKE fraternity. He has published through the ARCHWAY numerous articles on both the social and academic atmosphere of BRYANT. Mr. "P" has written extensively on youth problems, participated in State wide conferences on youth problems and recently edited a large volume on the issue of "Psychological Adjustment" of students.

We ask the Committee, then, who is more qualified? Who has more experience? Who knows more about the average Bryant student? Who knows more about the drug problem and the general student problems of this campus? In essence, we are asking, "Who is better suited to be Vice President for Students Affairs in this College, than one who has worked so closely with its students?"

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Why So Hot?

Letter to the Editor

In writing this brief letter, I am not speaking for myself, but for a good portion of, if not the entire school.

Wednesday, April 19th, this school was unbearable to attend any sort of meeting, be it class or school function. Why? It was too damn HOT!

What is the matter with the air system in this school? Shouldn't a day as Wednesday been anticipated to occur around this season of the year? Or is the air conditioning system in this college building faulty?

I am not trying to find fault with the school structure, but when one is subjected to work in unfavorable conditions as a few days ago the human body functions poorly, and the efficiency of the person isn't up to the standard it should be.

When will this problem be eliminated? The sooner it is the less bitching is likely to occur and the building will be up to the standards it was meant to be.

To American Students On April 22 We Urge You Be There!

The student movement has been a major force responsible for creating majority antiwar sentiment in this country. In 1965 when they told us this was the "first consensus war in American History", it was students who organized teach-ins to question that consensus. In 1966 and 1967 it was students who helped shatter that consensus. It was students who organized the first mass marches which have involved other sections of society in active opposition to the war.

The student movement must take the lead in exposing Nixon's lies. Nixon, the man responsible for the invasion of Cambodia and Laos, would like nothing better in this election year than to point to the campuses of America and say, "I have silenced antiwar dissent. America is united behind my 'plans for peace'."

Nixon has incredible resources at his disposal -- free TV time, crack public relations teams, and millions of dollars. All we have are the meetings we can organize, the leaflets we can pass out, and the mass demonstrations we can build. But then, Nixon has to maintain the most ambitious

The coffee house is opening this weekend with two superb shows. On Friday night starting at 8:00 p.m., Rod Wilmott a famed classical guitarist and lutenist direct from London, England will appear. On Saturday night four versatile musicians from the famed Berkley School of Music in Boston will be performing also at 8:00. Both acts should not be missed. The charge is only fifty cents.

Black Jack _ Smash Hit

Tuesday night was the premier of 'Black Jack Rides Again,' by Paul Gauthier's Drama Workshop Class. Over 300 people laughed and enjoyed throughout the entire performance. Steve Argosy, Wayne Beckner, Cheryl Chait, and Bev Kern drew most of the laughs with splendid performances. The rest of the cast were outstanding in their roles that they portrayed in the murder mystery. Directed by Peter Sloan and Bob Powers, 'Black Jack Rides Again' is a delightful change of pace. For those that missed the first two shows, it will also be held this Sunday, April 23, afternoon and evening. Free to Bryant students. It's worth seeing.

Student Senate Censors CoCo

The Student Senate of Bryant College, on Monday, April 17, 1972, voted unanimously to censure the Faculty Committee on College Organizations (CoCo) for failing to recognize the students of Bryant College as the number one priority.

After the faculty voted and approved Proposal 38, the new attendance policy, the Senate's goal was the immediate implementation of the new policy. The Senate's reasoning was that no student should be hurt by an antiquated policy that has been revised and approved by all three parts of the college community.

The CoCo Committee's only consideration was that a few faculty members might have to compromise on statements they made at the beginning of the semester concerning the attendance policy that was in effect at that time.

The Senate appreciates the position that handful of faculty members who might be confronted by an unpleasant situation, but that it is wrong to make a judgment of this magnitude based on the faculty position when it is only the students who stand to lose the most.

Voted for immediate implementation: Sam Knox.

Who Invaded Whom???

The State Department has called the current Vietnamese offensive an "invasion" and an "act of aggression" against South Vietnam.

To those who do not know the background of the Vietnam war, this view might seem to have some merit. But on close inspection, one can see that the United States is the real invader in Vietnam.

Unfortunately for the State Department, there exists something known as the Geneva Agreement of 1954, which was signed by seven nations, after Ho Chi Minh's Vietminh army defeated the French at Dienbienphu.

The Geneva Agreement clearly states that all of Vietnam is one nation. Although a demarcation line was set up between the northern zone of Vietnam and the southern zone, the Agreement states that "the military demarcation line is provisional and should not in any way be interpreted as constituting a political or territorial boundary."

On either side of this "Temporary" demarcation line, the Agreement provided for a "demilitarized zone" five kilometers (about three miles) wide. Ho Chi Minh agreed to pull his victorious troops north of this temporary demilitarized zone, until elections could be held in all of Vietnam. The elections were scheduled for July 1956.

The Geneva Agreement was signed by the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, the USSR, France, the People's Republic of China, Great Britain, and something called the State of Vietnam, in which the French had set up a puppet government in the closing stages of the war.

The understanding at Geneva was that Vietnam was to be reunited, and become an independent and neutral nation. To this end, foreign troops, equipment, and military bases were expressly prohibited. Foreign nations were enjoined from interfering in the internal political affairs of Vietnam, and Vietnam was to form no military alliances with other nations.

Of all the nations participating at Geneva, only the United States refused to sign the agreement, because, as President Eisenhower noted, "the Agreement contains features which we do not like...."

The U. S. soon set out to subvert the Agreement, which had ended eight years of war. With the help of CIA agents Colonel Edward Landsdale, the U.S. installed Ngo Dinh Diem as head of the "State of Vietnam," an entity that was to be dissolved with the 1956 elections.

Shortly afterwards, American military equipment, and advisors began arriving in the southern part of Vietnam. The U.S. had, within six months, broken two points of the Agreement.

Using the American equipment, Diem began moving against former Vietnamese resistance fighters, people who had fought against the French, and before that the Japanese, but had chosen to live in the south. Many were killed and tortured, another violation of the Geneva Agreement.

When U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles created the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), Diem's government became a part of it. By early 1956, Diem was openly saying that there would be no elections. The reason was stated quite candidly by President Eisenhower who remarked that if the elections were held, "Ho Chi Minh would get 80 percent of the vote." The elections were never held.

In the late fifties, the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam was formed. By 1965, its armed forces were on the verge of taking control of the entire country. Between March and August of 1965, the U.S. rushed

INSIGHT The Discovery

by R.S. Woolf

A timid sprinkle of precipitation dampens the earth on which I tread. Fewer than five winged creatures dot the vast grayish blue horizon. Evening quietly meanders in to blanket the skyline with an eerie twilight gleam. For all intents and purposes, man has left this micro-cosmic, mini city. The life of the wilderness night reveal their furry heads and scamper hurriedly. Bunnies with grey coats and white tails make a hasty retreat as seemingly methodic footsteps crunch twigs and grass with a menacing blow.

The stillness of the evening is broken by another radio transmission, and the reality of a quiet college campus returns with cool winds whipping around brick structures. The shadows play tricks on your eyes, and the mind explores goulsh possibilities of gruesome figures behind whispering trees.

Although my mind has traveled miles into the realm of the obscure, I don't forget that I'm on patrol in a lifeless dormitory village. Off in the distance, the glass behemoth looms large; yet it too stands lifeless. This mecca of knowledge is now still, for it hears no voices, feels no scraping chalk, and gives no more under the strain of hundreds on staircases.

Soon, the thunderous rumble of cars will return, bringing life to this boomtown. However, for now, stillness envelopes all. With this quiet time, a man has a chance to think, and a realization is imminent. This school, as specialized in equipment as it is, as beautiful in structure as it is, as promising as it is for all the tomorrows to come; its life depends upon its citizenry. Without the students, trailblazing legislations stop from the Student Senate. The dome does not echo from the laughter of Youth Guidance children. No ripples disturb a quiet pool, where ordinarily the Scuba Diving Club takes the plunge. The learning process stops without students.

By now, I may have established my point. But just in case, let me explain. This school is nothing without its students. We bring life to the village. We set the mood, we have the power. It is our task to excel, and raise the character of Bryant College. In any method; through extracurricular activities, or academically, you owe it to yourself, to get involved, be a part of the living. Bryant offers this, you must accept it.

Commuter Corner

by Agnes Rawnsley

Commuter, Commuter, where are you? I've been on the lookout for you in all areas of the school, but still there are no signs of your presence to be found.

Are you in the auditorium, trying out a few lines for the latest production? No, You didn't hear about the play.

Are you in the Game Room showing off your superior skill at the billiards tables? No, you didn't hear about its existence yet.

Are you at the Gymnasium using the Courts, Exercise Rooms, and Saunas. No, you are not to be found there either. It's not that you don't know where the gym is, you don't know the in's and out's.

Commuter, Commuter, where are you?? Where can you be hiding? I still cannot find you.

Are you at the Bank, cashing that large check from the government, at the Bookstore, Cleaners, Coffee House or how about the Computer Center? Are you at the Beauty Parlor or at the Barber Shop being prepared for that extra special date. It saves time to have it done at Bryant in between classes instead of running last minute. Can you possibly be in the Chaplain's office having that long awaited friendly chat.

Commuter, Commuter again I cry, where are you? I cannot find you.

Are you sports-minded? Are you at the Tennis Courts, the warm weather has finally arrived. Are you at the Track, the Soccer Field, The Baseball Diamond, the Softball Diamond or are you at the Football Field?

Are you studying quietly in the library in your favorite little corner far removed from everyone? Are you in one of the lounges? In one of the meeting rooms? Let's see what's left? Lots of places still untouched. Could it be the Post Office, mailing that special letter? A little late as usual so you thought you'd investigate and find out what mailing facilities Bryant has to offer.

Are you at the Rathskeller having a few drinks before you start on that long route home? It takes great support to make it over Route 116. Then there's the Rotunda where everyone is relaxing in the friendly atmosphere or are you at the pool taking a refreshing dip after a long laborious day? No, my commuter you are not to be found. Where else can I look?

The Snack Bar is a resort, but there are no signs to be seen of you. Then the Dining Room. Are you there? No, you are not.

And that my dear commuter is the problem. You are not to be seen in any of the many facilities that Bryant has to offer. What do you have to lose by becoming involved? Try it, you'll like it!!!

Clarification Of Cutback In Work-Study Funds

Recently there have been many rumors circulating through the student body regarding the cutback in the College Work-Study Program. The ONLY financial aid program that has been cut back is the work-study program. No other financial aid program is affected.

In order to explain to you the reasons for the cutback in the work-study program, I must first explain how the program works.

The College Work-Study Program is a federally funded program whereby needy students are employed. The federal government pays for 80 percent of the student's wages, and the agency or department where the student is employed pays the remaining 20 percent. (For example: Department A of the College employs three students on the work-study program. Twenty percent of the wages of these students will be paid by this department and this will be deducted from the department's budget.)

The program is not restricted to on-campus employment. There are also students working in non-profit, non-political, and non-sectarian agencies off campus.

Employment on the work-study program was increased dramatically by the opening of many activities on campus that required student help. The on-campus program had doubled over a period of five months. Due to this large unexpected jump in students employed on the program, funds for the program were being expended much faster than expected. If the expenditure rate continued, all funds would have been exhausted by April 30. Supplemental funds were requested in February of 1972. The outlook for receipt of these funds is very poor; and even if the funds were awarded by the federal government, notice of this would not be forthcoming until the end of May or beginning of June, too late to be of any effective use. Since the program is founded on a fiscal year basis, (July 1 - June 30) no new funds would be forthcoming from the federal government until July 1. Therefore, action had to be taken in order to insure that the work-study program could continue until that date.

The decision was made to lower the expenditures to a level that would insure that the program would continue. Therefore, twenty students employed on the work-study program were taken off the program and placed on the Bryant College employment program (a program that is 100 percent funded by the college in which students receive $1.60 an hour as opposed to $2.00 an hour on work-study program.)

CRITERIS FOR REMOVAL

Many departments of the college, due to budgetary restrictions, could not employ students without the help of the work-study program which allows them to pay only 20 percent. Therefore, students employed in these departments would not be cut off. Otherwise, they would lose their jobs.

If a student would not lose his job through the action of removing him from the work-study program (in which the department only has to pay 20 percent) and the placement of him on the Bryant College employment program (where the department would pay 100 percent of the wages), the student would be removed.

The effect of this change was a reduction in the rate of pay amounting to a 40 cents per hour.

It is unfortunate that this action had to be taken, but it was necessary in order to insure that the College Work-Study Program would survive the fiscal year, and that the summer program, which last year provided 44 students with full-time jobs, could again be successful this year.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

The Student Employment information appearing below is a summary of all jobs phoned into the Student Employment Service in the last month. A Student Employment Directory listing 90,000 summer jobs throughout the U.S. is available for students to review in the Financial Aid Office. The Student Employment Service recommends that you begin applying for summer positions now, in order that you may be assured of a job next summer.

ATTENTION: Beginning Monday, April 24, students can sign up for on campus jobs commencing this summer and next semester. This list is only a notification of willingness to work and is not a guarantee of a job this summer or next semester. Jobs will be filled using the following criteria: 1. need 2. experience and 3. ability, not necessarily in that order.

Bryant Opens New Track With Win

by Peter Lockatell

Despite over-cast skies and temperature in the 40's, the Bryant track team opened it's new track with it's first win of the season over Assumption College and Rhode Island College last Saturday afternoon. Leading the way for Bryant, were record setting performances by Bruce Hall, Blaise Ravalli, Dan Bergander and Jeff Loja. Also Coach Reinhardt received winning performances from Roy Lapidus and Dave Stone.

In the field events, Bryant took three out of six. Blaise Ravalli easily won the shot put with a record toss of 44 feet 5 3/4 inches. Bruce Hall established his record by long rumping 20 feet 4 1/3 inches to narrowly defeat Toher of R.I.C. Bryant also finished first in the Triple jump, as the team had 34 points going into the track events.

In the track events, Bryant received winning performances from Dan Bergander, Jeff Loja, Dave Stone and Roy Lapidus. Dan Bergander totally dominated the hurdles. In the 120 high hurdles, Dan breezed home in first place with a time 18.6. When Mr. Bergander ran the intermediate hurdles, he not only finished first, but established a new mark of 1:03. Bryant onlookers saw the last Bryant record go to Jeff Loja. Jeff out distanced his competitors for a first and a record 55:0 for the 440 run.

In other track events, Dave Stone hung on to win the 880, with an excellent time of 2:04.6. Dave was being pushed the entire race, but a good finishing kick saved him from defeat. Roy Lapidus took the last Bryant first place finish of the meet, with a win in the 2 mile event. Roy's time of 10:26.6 beat teammates Steve Olsen and Rich Collard, as Bryant swept the first four places.

Other note worthy performances were turned in by John Jenkins, Tom Walsh, Mark Shoham and Carter Anderson of Bryant and John Austin of Assumption. John took a second in the hammer with a toss of 111 feet 11 inches, Tom finished second in the javelin with a toss of 177 feet 5 inches, Mark Shoham took a third in the pole vault with a mark of 11 feet and Carter Anderson finished second in the discus with a toss of 113 feet 3 inches. Mr. Austin made the coach a little happier by selling a new Assumption javelin record of 196 feet 9 inches. Austin has been rapidly improving his records, just a few days before the meet, he had set the old record of 194 feet 4 inches at a Brandeis meet.

Coach Reinhardt was more than pleased with his team's performance. He sighted that the lack of training and the weather were mostly responsible for the lackluster performances of many of the competitors. The weather didn't seem to bother Bryant, as the team rolled to its first victory 87 to 69 (Assumption) to 31 (R.I.C.).

It was 84 degrees on Wednesday, but the baseball game between Bryant and Bentley was called off yesterday because of snow. It has been rescheduled for today at 2:00 p.m. It will be played at Bentley.

more than 100,000 troops into Vietnam along with guns, planes, and helicopters. It began building huge military bases there.

Finally, in April 1972, almost sixteen years after the "provisional" demarcation line was to disappear, the U.S. says that soldiers from the north have swept over it.

Was that an invasion, or did the invasion occur when the U.S. interfered in Vietnam's internal affairs in 1954 and set up Diem, and then sent in military equipment to back him up? Or did it occur when the elections were canceled and the demarcation line became permanent, although the Geneva Agreement said this was not to happen?

Possibly the real invasion occurred in 1965 with the massive buildup of U.S. troops, again in violation of the Geneva Agreements, or maybe it took place when the U.S. began its massive bombing campaign.

Personally, I think the North Vietnamese showed great restraint. They waited almost sixteen years before sweeping across a line that was to disappear in 1956.

I hope they make it all the way to Saigon.

SUNDAY NIGHT FINAL

BSO 16
SIX 13
BSO Wins the Series 2-1

The Commuter 7, the defending intramural basketball champions, retained their title with a 76-65 win over PHI SIGMA NU.

In the first half, the Commuter 7 jumped out to an early 9-3 lead but PHI SIGMA NU rallied to make the score 9-8 with about 13 minutes left in the first half. During these first 7 minutes, both teams were guilty of many turnovers. They exchanged baskets until 5:47 left in the half when Ron LaFlamme of the Commuter 7 scored giving them a 23-16 lead. With that basket, PHI SIGMA NU quickly called a timeout. The timeout had little or no effect as the Commuter 7 went on a surge led by guard Mike Delekta. With 1:16 showing on the clock, the Commuter had built up a 16-point lead, 38-22. With about a minute left, PHI SIGMA NU made an attempt to close the gap. Two baskets by guard Neil Goldman and a hook shot by Tom Asslen made the score 40-28 at halftime.

In the second half, both teams exchanged baskets for the first five minutes with the Commuter 7 still ahead by the score of 48-35. With 8:09 remaining, PHI SIGMA NU pulled to within 10, 60-50, on a three-point play by Neil Goldman. With 4:39 left in the game and PHI SIGMA NU using a full court press, Bill Taylor stole an inbounds pass and went in for a layup cutting the Commuter 7's lead to just 6 points, 63-57. This was as close as PHI SIGMA NU was to get. With 2:31 on the clock, center Ed Desaulnier scored for the Commuter 7 giving them a ten point lead. With 1:14 left, Mike Delekta scored giving Commuter 7 a 12-point lead, 73-61. The final score was 76-65.

The highscorers for the Commuter 7 were Mike Delekta with 27 points and Ron LaFlamme and Ed Desaulnier with 15 apiece. The highscorers for PHI SIGMA NU were Howie Reade with 25 points and Tom Asselin with 19. Ed Desaulnier was the leading rebounder for the Commuter 7 who out rebounded the taller PHI SIGMA NU team. Congratulations to both teams on a well played ballgame!

Players from Phi Sigma Nu and Commuter 7 battle for rebound in their championship game.

BRYANT WINS OPENER

The Bryant College Indians down by one run in the last of the eighth came back and defeated Nasson College 4-1 in its season opener. A walk to Bob Antignano, a sacrifice by Brian Ahern followed by a double by Matt Bernardo scored Antignano with the tying run. Bob DelVecchio's single scored Bernardo with the go ahead run. The Indians then added two insurance runs when Ernie Crowell reached on an error and Paul Tillinghast singled scoring DelVecchio with Crowell scoring from second on a hard collision at the plate.

Bernardo had three of the Indian's seven hits (two of them doubles), and Tillinghast two. Jim Hogan pitched a sensational game striking out thirteen including the side both in the third and seventh innings. The line score was Bryant 4-7-0; and Nasson 1-5-4.

The game was highlighted by an airtight defense and a strong pitching performance along with heads up hustling that bodes well for the Bryant team. Bryant plays home tomorrow against Stonehill at 2 p.m., Monday against Babson at 2 p.m., and Wednesday against RIC at 3 p.m.
